

Housewares Revolution

There's an unprecedented interest in stylish, highly functional products today. From sophisticated coffee makers and upscale vacuum cleaners to colourful pots and pans, a design revolution is sweeping American life. The home is the center of this revolution, and homeowners are viewing their living space as an extension of their personality. Here are some of the categories that captured retailer and consumer attention at the Housewares Show in Chicago.

CLEANING CLOTHS

StarFiber's Miracle Cloth combines friction and static electricity to absorb and remove micro-particles, dust, dirt, oils, and without the use of chemicals. Perfect for any room in the house, it cleans and polishes surfaces without leaving streaks and smudges.
